Dear member

Hello I hope you are keeping well. This is the autumn 2016 newsletter with details of our Autumn show winners and future events.

Our Autumn show was again a success with 185 birds entered and 86 plates of eggs. Considering the time of year and birds in moult or still recovering from their moult it was a very good entry. It was my husband's first show as show secretary and I hope that you all agree with me that he did a fantastic job. Computers and social media are not his forte thus he wanted me to personally thank you all for your patience and understanding on the day, he is looking forward to our next show in April 2017.

Judges were Mr Aled Green, Mr Tony Brown, Mr Simon Windle, Mr Paul Heath, Ms Nikki Williams and Mr William Hicks who all did a fantastic job.

I wish to thank all the committee members for their hard work throughout the year and especially for assisting in the show preparation, particular thanks to Barbara Kershaw for organising the refreshments and meals for the judges.

Eggciting news (get it) Anglesey Poultry Society will be organising a Poultry Workshop/Seminar next February with Guest Speaker Mr Grant Brereton. There has been significant interest up to now from members who were at the show, we envisage that there will be a huge interest, therefore due to the proposed venue it will be on a first come, first served basis. Topics will be Show preparation, feather development and patterning, breeding, feeding, incubation and illnesses and infestations. Exact costs have not been verified yet but initial indications are £10 per head to include cold buffet. It will be on a weekend with a possible 10 am start.

I hope you have all had an opportunity to explore our website, we strive to keep it updated and the show photos will be uploaded asap. All contact details and membership rates etc are on the website as are dates of all our future meetings.

Thank you again for your support
